

Hegels Critique of Metaphysics (Modern European Philosophy)

Hegels Science of Logic has received less attention than his Phenomenology of Spirit, but Hegel himself took it to be his highest philosophical achievement and the backbone of his system. The present book focuses on this most difficult of Hegels published works. Beatrice Longuenesse offers a close analysis of core issues, including discussions of what Hegel means by dialectical logic, the role and meaning of contradiction in Hegels philosophy, and Hegels justification for the provocative statement that what is actual is rational, what is rational is actual. She examines both Hegels debt and his polemical reaction to Kant, and shows in great detail how his project of a dialectical logic can be understood only in light of its relation to Kants transcendental logic. This book will appeal to anyone interested in Hegels philosophy and its influence on contemporary philosophical discussion.
