

Metaverse Manifesto

The Metaverse Manifesto - a statement of how digital realities have become the only realities that matter. This book is an indispensable guide to new media and the emerging phenomenon of the Metaverse. With the Metaverse Manifesto, Avatar Orange Montagne states the mission of the new creative breed he calls Reality-creators. They reject and then supersede established media and recycled culture. The core of their revolutionary actions is focused on creating immersive places. Destroying fictions, they create spaces that include the viewers themselves, viewers that had previously been locked out of the media they perceived. Written by Orange Montagne, a pioneer explorer in the concepts of the digital being. With this Manifesto, the implications of user-generated content are shown to extend much further than they do today, up to the point of describing the very realities we now inhabit. Volatile - impulsive - wild - written during a time of revolution and struggle to define the spaces called virtual worlds.
