

You are the World

There is a strange malaise amongst the student population of the world and, at this critical moment, the words of J. Krishnamurti direct each person to become his own teacher as well as discipline. For over four decades, Krishnamurti has spoken to people in all parts of the world. He does not represent any school of thought, either of the East or the West. He is only concerned with facts, not with ideas, theories and beliefs.
