

Prairy Erth

In Blue Highways, William Least Heat-Moon took us on a journey on the highways of America. We met many interesting people along the way. In PrairyErth he is now walking through the backroads of Kansas. He introduces us to all kinds of people and tells their stories. He describes, he narrates, he shares information and we learn at his feet (or in this case, his written word.) The story might be a walk through Kansas but it is more than that, a walk through our life and the potential we have to make the most of it.
